

Conference Information

IPD33 Conference for Heads of Learning Support

15 April 2009

Chigwell School

Cost: £210

Every child is special and every child has needs. Special Needs training is a vital part of what makes the independent sector so attractive to parents; the care and attention that we are able to give to the individuals within our care and the ability to bring out the best in a wide range of pupils, both the less and the more able, is one of our unique selling points.

Much of the responsibility for this falls on the shoulders of the SENCo who is in need of training and support. A day set aside to update our knowledge and share good practice is an excellent way of recharging our batteries.

The day will be led by Fil Came of Learning Works who is well known to all of us. Fil will focus on the key issues at the present time for those who perform this vital role in our schools and will exemplify a range of practical strategies and models in use in a range of schools.

The course is aimed at those responsible for learning support in schools and those who aspire to this role. It will also be useful for curriculum co-ordinators.
